Dear Customers and Partners

- we are now officially Wavin Finland Oy

We have finalised the name change and can announce that we are now also officially Wavin Finland Oy.

- The official change of name is a continuation to the change process we have been in the last couple of years with goal unite us stronger into Wavin and enhance our expertise as a specialist providing innovative solutions for water management, heating and cooling, water distribution and waste water drainage, says Tony Äijö, Sales Director of Finland.

- With the name change our old name Wavin-Labko Ltd will become as part of our history, but the knowledge gained through years will remain as relevant part of Wavin Finland Oy, Äijö continues, we are still a trusted expert in storm water and foul water management but has in recent years also become a reliable above ground solution provider. This enables us to serve our customers even better.

Although the company name now is also legally changed all the contact information as well as business ID remains the same. For customers and partners this means that all agreements are still valid as they were before. However, we kindly ask you to update Wavin company name to Wavin Finland Oy as well as logo on your websites, publications and IT systems where and when necessary.
